Artist's Statement

"At the Market

My heart beats faster as I arrive at the Kings Cross green grocer.

I know what's coming.

First the arresting dazzle of jostling flowers.

I pause, peruse, catch my breath.

You can never deny flowers.

Down the escalator; just picking something up for dinner.

Shining, luscious leaves, orbs, sliced up wedges of colour clamour.

Teeming beauty.

My mission is in danger.

At the back the cabbage waits.

The juxtaposition of the extremely common and the totally Baroque smacks me in the eye every time. It's wings, it's frills, it's electric veins, it's dark round promise beneath dusky leaves. It's weight.

The Brassica cousins? A whole world of bubbling miniature tree forms like irresistibly crazed bonsai.

I decide.

Cabbage is simply too amazing not to paint."
